Industry Institute Interaction Cell (III-Cell)

An active industry institute interaction cell (III-cell) has been functioning in the college. The function of the cell is to promote closer interaction between the academic field and the professional field. Industry institute interaction cell is established to provide closer links with industries. The purpose of the cell is to find out the gap between need of the industry and end product of the institute. The cell is the bridge between the industry, the real world and the institute. Industrial exposure of faculty is very much helpful to guide students about latest industrial practices.

Interaction between institute and the industry is widely recognized as an essential requirement to train and develop the right kind of technical manpower necessary to sustain and promote industrial and economic growth. III-cell can be considered as the platform for showcasing best industrial practices, latest technological advancements and their implementation and impact on the industry.

OBJECTIVES:-

- 1] To cultivate symbiotic relationship between college and industry as well as College and other research institutes.
- 2] To help industries to solve their problems through research, training and consultancy.
- 3] To synchronize the quality of education to meet the trend of industry.
- 4] To produce employable students i.e. "INDUSTRY-READY STUDENTS."
- 5] To conduct other value added programs based on industry requirements.
- 6] To integrate industrial training and other inputs to develop students.
- 7] To offer research, development, consultancy and testing services to solve industrial problems.
- 8] To share the experience and expertise between institutions and industry for mutual benefits.
- 9] To improve curricula, faculty, infrastructure, pedagogy in line with the industry requirements.
- 10] To develop good work culture in students.
- 11] To organize lectures by experts from industry.

INDUSTRY INSTITUTION INTERACTION CELL (IIIC)

Objective :

To explore and identify common avenues of interaction with industry as per the requirements of the institution.

Scope :

All the institutions covered under the Project will form Industry-Institution-Interaction Cell (IIIC) to establish purposeful interaction between industry and institution.

Strategy :

IIIC will be responsible for designing the roadmap for interaction with industry recognizing the inherent strengths as well as the weaknesses of the institution. Thus it will be a unique and localized industry-institute-Interaction development roadmap for the institutions.

The industry interaction for envisioned institutional roadmap will be facilitated by Industry-Institute Partner Promotion Cell (IIPPC) established at SPFU of the respective States.

Suggested Activities under IIIC :

- To identify and facilitate Guest Lectures, Interactive Workshops, Conferences, Seminars, Brain Storming Sessions, Technical Discussions etc. with members of the industry, outside experts, eminent personalities at regular interval.
- To conduct Industrial Training, Orientation Courses, Industrial Visits etc for faculty and students at regular intervals.
- To facilitate joint research work, consultancy involving faculty and students.
- To conduct industrial exhibitions to highlight research facilities and expertise available with the Institution.
- To facilitate for professionals from industry as visiting faculty in institutions and short or long periods deployment of faculty from institutions to industry for gaining industrial experience and/or work on projects in industry.
- To seek and associate experts from industry in curriculum development and review.
- To identify continuing education opportunities, short-term programmes and training needs of the industry, which the institution can provide.
- To promote revenue generating activities for the institution like Lab Testing, Calibration, Consultancy and R&D etc.
- To assess periodically the scientific and technological scenario/ happenings in India and abroad in order to translate it into action for taking up future R&D work.

Deliverables :

IIIC will be responsible for the following deliverables:

- Increase in collaboration with industry
- Increased rate of campus placement of students
- Absorption of students by same industries providing industrial training
- Increase in IRG by collaborating with industry
- Increase in industrial training for students arranged by college
- Increase in utilization of college resources by industry

COUNSELLING CELL

Introduction

A Counselling Cell is established since 2016 to support our students and faculties for their comprehensive psychological well beingness. A counseling cell at GWCET is a facilitator that helps the students to overcome career and social behavioral barriers. In the changing scenario counseling cell plays a vital role to overcome the hurdles in an overall development of a student.

A counseling cell also works in coordination with the training and placement department in order to provide the career guidance related problems.

For the smooth functioning of the counselling cell have a faculty guardian from each department.

Ms. M. M. Yengale, Assistant Professor in the Civil Department & team, conducts counselling sessions for both students and faculties once in a week.

Objectives:

- To develop a more positive & helpful attitude
- To figure out causes of their emotional troubles
- Counselling students for solving their problems and provide confidence to improve their quality of life.
- Guiding students to choose right career path for job, higher studies, Entrepreneurship, etc.

7] Gymnasium

GOVINDRAO WANJARI COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING & TECHNOLOGY, NAGPUR.

DEPARTMENT OF GYMNASIUM

Role and Responsibilities

1. Get Healthy

A gym encourages you to do a balanced program that includes both aerobic and strength training exercises. These promote heart health and weight loss, help prevent osteoporosis and improve muscle strength, balance and flexibility. If weight loss is a primary goal, consider the mantra of a friend who tells me "nothing tastes as good as getting in shape feels."

2. Find Support and Motivation

Some people really enjoy exercise; for others, it's a chore. If you fall into that latter group, being surrounded by other people who are in the same boat can provide the incentive you need to make exercise part of your regular routine. Your initial intention might be to drag yourself to the gym twice a week, but once you find your rhythm, you may end up going on a more regular basis, which will help make your goals more attainable.

3. Get Stress Relief

According to the American Psychological Association, virtually any form of exercise can act as a stress reliever, whether you're a serious athlete or an out of shape wannabe. Physical activity boosts the brain's production of endorphins, which simply makes us feel better physically and have a brighter emotional outlook. Exercise reduces tensions in both the body and the mind, which can improve your mood and the quality of your sleep. For many people, the gym becomes a bit of sanctuary where you can turn off the phone and forget all of the troubles at work or in your personal life.

4. Learn From the Pros

Many gyms now have professional trainers on staff -- often people with college degrees in sports science or other related fields, along with personal training certificates. They are trained to design exercise programs that fit your individual needs in a fun and safe way, showing you proper exercise techniques so that you don't hurt yourself and that you get the most out of each exercise routine.

5. Sample the Variety

One of the big advantages a gym has over your guest room/home gym is the wide array of weights, machines, exercise classes and other elements. This gives you the opportunity to try new exercise equipment and vary your routine. If you do the same workout day-in and day-out, your body builds a type of muscle memory and the gains you make are incrementally decreased. Fitness experts say that finding different ways to exercise the same muscles and muscle groups can improve the quality of your workout.

6. Learn From Each Other

Inevitably you'll see the people around you doing exercises that are new to you and may look sort of fun. You can certainly borrow and learn from others, but with this caveat: make sure you learn the proper technique so that you don't injure yourself. Just because someone else is doing something that looks interesting, doesn't mean that they know what they're doing. On the other hand, most people are happy to share the knowledge they've acquired. Ask them what that exercise is meant to accomplish and about the proper form to do it right.

7. Team work

Many people find exercise classes to be the most efficient and fun way to get a full body workout. You can do everything from Aqua Arthritis (where there's a pool) to Zumba, and from kickboxing to yoga. There's usually a very energetic leader to help provide you with some extra energy and motivation. Many people do have to get over the hump initially of being the class newbie, where it seems like you're the only one who doesn't know the right steps or positions, or the only man in a class of a dozen women. (Granted, that's not necessarily a p roblem for all men.) Don't worry though. They are concentrating on their own form and not watching yours.
